Pastor Goffar Sees Threats To Liberties

"Guided missiles and military might are not the only threats to liberty," Pastor Glenn L. Goffar of the Seventh-day Adventist Church said yesterday in observance of Religious Liberty Day.

"Great dangers also lie in a lackadaisical attitude toward the aggressive approach of well-meaning groups who seek to control the spiritual life of men."

The minister referred specifically to the attempted enforcement of Sunday observance, which has become a prominent issue in many sections of the country. He declared that the enforced observance of a day not considered sacred by many violates the fundamental laws of human rights.

Pastor Goffar said that he most certainly did not condone the breaking of the Sabbath. The enforcement of Sabbath observance, however, he pointed out, particularly when there is some disagreement as to which day is the Sabbath, is not up to the state. It is purely a matter between a man and his maker.

"It is good to concern ourselves with the spiritual well-being of our brother," the pastor said, but he is not helped one whit by having religion thrust upon him."

The Oregon pastor is one of 106 guest speakers who will appear during the week in the pulpits of as many Lutheran churches of the Missouri Synod throughout Southern California.

At present he is pastor of Zion Lutheran Church in the Oregon city. He will deliver his first address locally during 8:30 and 11 a.m. services Sunday.

Following a 3 a.m. rally conducted by the participating churches at Immanuel Presbyterian Church, Los Angeles, Sunday afternoon, the Rev. Warnke will again address the local congregation at an 8 p.m. service Sunday.

The local guest missionary will continue his series of mes-

Prior to each evening service, a visitation group of 40 persons will call upon local prospects for church membership, inviting them to participate in the mission program. Special music will be provided each evening, and each hour-long service will include a question and answer period, according to the Rev. A. L. T.
